

Press Release

March 2010

Tacktick by Suunto to sponsor Weston Grand Slam

Tacktick by Suunto have announced their sponsorship of the annual Weston Grand Slam which takes place over the Easter weekend 2nd - 5th April 2010.

This famous 4 day mass handicap event attracts over 100 dinghies each year to this South Coast sailing club.

Tacktick by Suunto will be offering a number of prizes for the event including the highly sort-after Suunto marine wrist watches which feature a stop watch, sailing timer and a host of other sailing functions.

The annual Weston Grand Slam takes place over the Easter weekend with the event split into 5 fleets; catamarans, asymmetrics, fast, slow and novices. Many of the boats sailing will be using Tacktick's award winning Micro Compass: the world's leading digital compass for dinghy sailors, which gives all the data needed for racing winning performance.

To find out more about Tacktick's full range of wireless electronics and the Suunto range of marine products please visit www.tacktick.com

Ends

Notes for editors:

March 2010

Tacktick are world leaders in wireless marine electronics delivering an extensive range of wireless instruments that utilise an innovative Micronet technology, allowing the units to function entirely using solar power.

Suunto is a leading designer and manufacturer of sports precision instruments for training, diving, marine and outdoor sports. Suunto and Tacktick have now joined forces to bring a stronger collective offering of products and services to the marine sector.

The combined strength of Suunto and Tacktick's technologies will accelerate the development of new innovative marine products while also offering possibilities to expand the wireless Micronet, solar-power technologies into other areas of sports precision instruments.

For media enquiries contact Sarah Johnson at sarah.johnson@tacktick.com